Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 08 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine, with warm sunshine after early low cloud clears.

Today:
Early morning mist and low cloud will soon disperse to leave a generally fine and warm day with plenty of sunshine. Light winds expected throughout. Feeling a little cooler in southern coastal districts, with a sea breeze developing here. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying generally dry and also warm for many, although some southern rural areas may see temperatures dip under clear spells. Some mist and low cloud may return in the southeast. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another fine day, with plenty of sunshine generally once early mist and low cloud disperses from some southern areas. Feeling warmer than on Tuesday, with light winds again expected. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Most likely staying fine through this period, with plenty of sunshine, while temperatures may rise a little further. Southern coastal districts may see periods of mist and low cloud.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.